THE state of the brain in sleep is more active than is generally imagined. Modern scientific evidence points conclusively to a certain amount of mental movement during the whole period of sleep. #### THE MASONIC BALL.

The Hongkong Masonic Ball of 1804 is by unanimous opinion worthy to be chronicled as the most magnificent in the whole history of the Far East; and it will be a long time before a greater success than that of last night will come within the range of practical possibilities. Every section of the community assisted-the army, the navy, the foreign visitors, the resident citizens en masse, of every nationality and every rank; and apparently no effort or expense was spared in combining to create a record in the annals of the Orient. To the eye of the initiated, the City Hall yesterday was a colossal display of the glories yesterday morning, in a fit of somnambulism, of Masonry; while apart from the significance of the emblems, the spectacle was gorgeous in the extreme. From end to end the building bristled with trophies and decorations of mysterious meaning, while over the entrance a. great five-point star of gas lights stood out as a ACCORDING to a Tokyo native journal, a series Masonic beacon to the whole colony. The of very grave charges are to be brought against approach to the City Hall was to have been a number of officials and others in connection | beautified in various ways, but the utterly imwith the Japanese exhibit at the Chicago World's practicable " founts in " in front prevented sny-Fair. #### ALLEGED FRAUDS BY A SLAUGHTER HOUSE REEPER.

With a view to preventing Chinese butchers from offering for sale any but thoroughly wholesome meat, it was long ago ordained that no cattle should be slaughtered in the Colony except such as had been passed by the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, and for some time past the role has doubtless been enforced as well as could be expected in this well-ordered city and the general public have been under the impression that an efficient safeguard had been maintained in connection with the sale of beef mutton, verland pork. But it appears that the faci of all "passed cattle" being branded immediately after examination, while rejected animals are not branded, has not proved an insurmountable obstacle to the wiles of the " heathen Chinee," and that, notwithstanding the vigilance of the conscientions Government "Vet" and the market inspectors, rejected cattle have at times been found roaming about the guilles of Pokiulam bearing the imprint of the "broad arrow" as though duly pussed by the authorides. A careful watch has therefore been maintained for some time by the police upon the butchers and cattledealers, with the result that a counterfelt branding-iron (the broad arr. w) was found vesterday by Sergeant T. Millat in the possession of F. P. Xavier, the keeper of the Kennedy-town slaughter houses, as well as some rejected cattle in the cattle-pens branded with the broad arrow. The keeper was therefore arrested and brought before Mi Hastings in the Police Court this morning to answer to the charge of having "unlawfu!l forged the stamp or seal of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon on the 26th Instant." Mi . F. Reece appeared for the defence and applied before any evidence was heard, for a remand until Thursday morning, and this was granted, but the offer of ball which was tendered at the same time was refused by his Worship.

The rejected cattle, some twenty head in all have been seized by the police who, as migh be expected under the circumstances, find difficult to find owners for them, although the animals were not rejected owing to disease, but for the reason that they were old and by no means in good condition.

ORLANDO BOGGS GIRDLES THE GLOBE

Orlando Boggs wanted to go around the world and he had nothing on earth to go with but time and cheek. It has been said that time is money, but for some reason Mr. Boggs found it impossible to convert his time into any collateral for bread and meat and steamboat fares and railroad riding and other necessaries incident to living or travelling. In taking stock of his resources one day, it suddenly occurred to Hoggs that his cheek might be more available, and he put himself into a deep thinking trance. Results followed and Orlando Boggs went abroad : in fact, he went all around the world; and yet he left home without the ghost of a

The question for a moment staggered Boggs, but he quickly braced up and replied that he would be only too glad to do so. The Captain went to make inquiries and presently returned, saying he had made all the arrangements and had put up the money. Boggs told him he would get some necessaries for the match, and his friend gave him the cash without the least hesitation. Bogge then disappeared, but just about fifteen minutes before the time set for the start he showed up. He was a sight. He was dressed in tights and on his shoulders and arms were numberless bundles and packages, among them being a small oil-stove and some utenells There is still considerable talk in the city for cooking. The captain greeted him warmly, "All tight, Boges, my boy? Got everything you want?" he asked.

"Yes," I guess so," replied that cheeky individual. "Only I don't know anything about my opponent, and I am in doubt whether or not I ought to take along another ham and a few dozen cega."

"Say, mister, I don't think I want to swim with you; you are out of my class; I give it up and you can have the money; I am willing to give it up just to have a look at a man rigged out for a three months' swimming match; you beat me, you do,"
